

Never Alone

© 2008 Phillip J Rhoades
13985 S 42 St
Fulton, MI 49052
semjaza@gmail.com

Once there was a little boy named Alone.

Every day Alone was alone.

He read alone,

Swung in the swing
alone,

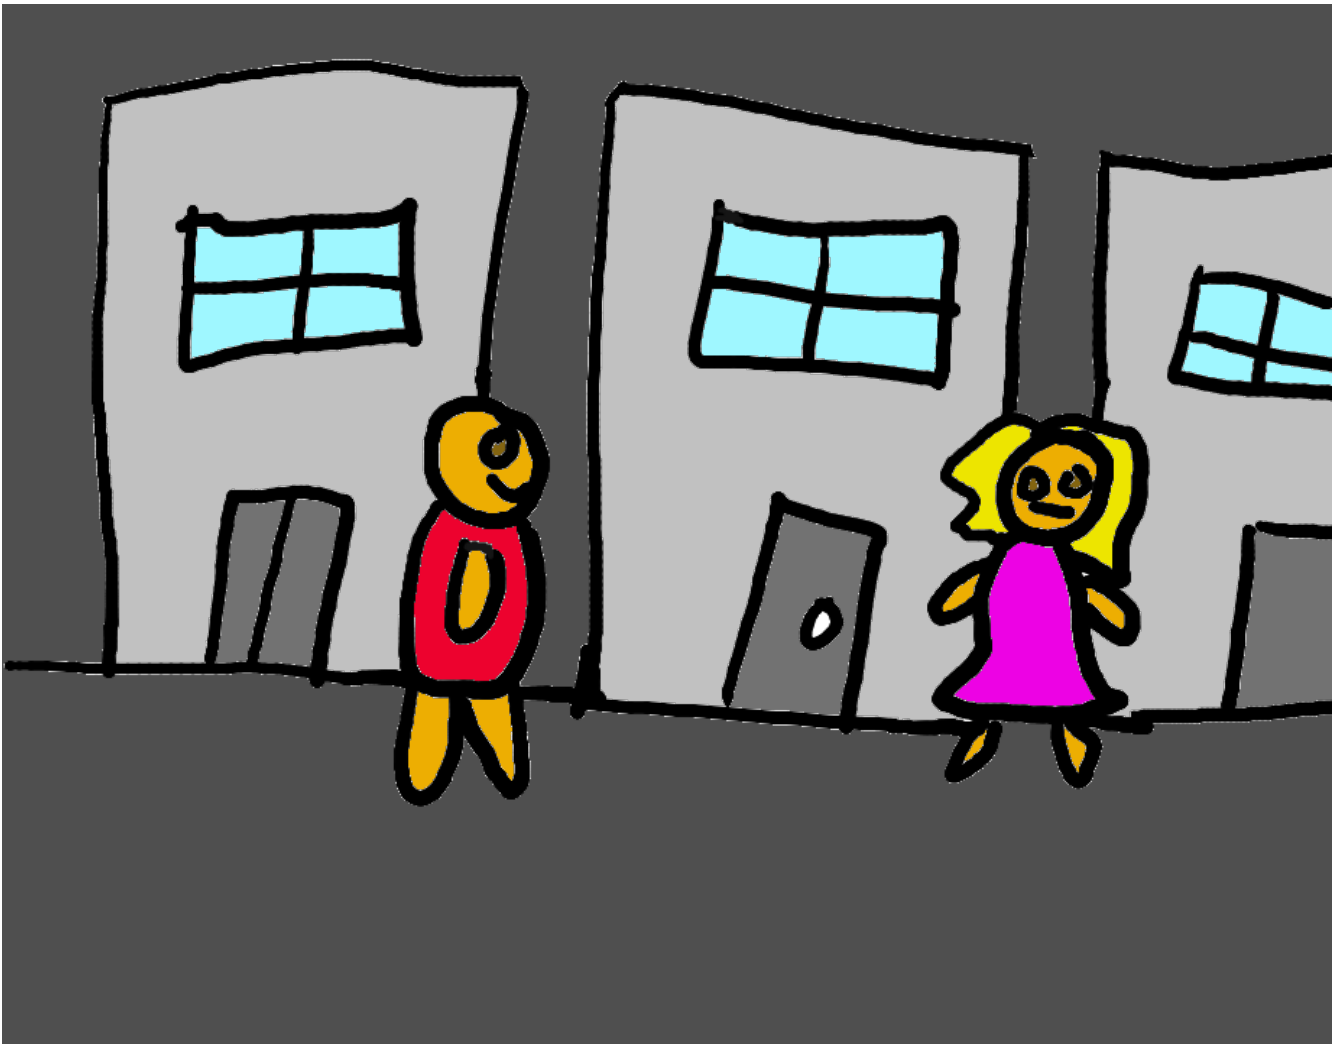

Played by the river
alone,

and even played baseball alone.

One day while walking home

Alone met a little girl named Never

Never had never read
before,
So Alone shared his book with her

Never had never swung in the swing before,
So Alone pushed her high in the air.

Never had never played by the river before,
So Alone showed her all the best rocks and shells

and Never had never ever played baseball
before,
So Alone showed her
how to hit a home run

And when Alone and Never walked home,
They walked home
together

And now they are Never Alone